

A Galley o' Fun!

A RIFT IN THE LUTE.
I love to see the sunshine
A-playing on the wall;
I love to see the little kids That do not care at all;
I love to see the green, green grass And vegetables grow;
And watch the birds and buds and things And think of all I know.
Then when the busy sun is high, Enfanned its brutal breath, I love to grasp the graceful birch,
And beat a rug to death!

Brother Lobstock—How did you all got you nose busted?
Brother Tump—I done slipped down an' plumb lit on my back.
Brother Lobstock—But, name o' goodness, sah—yo' nose isn't located on yo' back!
Brother Tump—No, sah; an' needer was Brudder Wack.

PROTECTED BY ART.
Mrs. Horse—I can see that we are losing prestige daily.
Mr. Horse—Nonsense! What would an equestrian statue on an automobile look like?

RAISED HIS IDEALS.
Joshua—Sile has a real high ideal of wimmen. Won't pay no attention to any of the girls round here.
Abner—I know it. The blamed gilley'll set an' admire the pictures of girls in the corner advertisements fer hours at a time.

A LEAD PIPE CINC.
Mistress—So you are to be married, Bridget? May you be very, very happy!
Cook—Shure, Murr, it's a cinch!
He gits twinty dollars a wake and weighs forty pounds less 'n I do!

THE MERMAID.
"Goodness!" exclaimed the mermaid petulantly. "I can't so much as look out of the water without my hair coming out straight!"

STUCK FAST.

"Come off!" we shouted to the man, again and again, but to no avail. He afterward discovered that he was stuck on himself.

FIND THE MORAL.
A dog, so the Modern Fable says, carrying a large, juicy bone in his mouth, was walking along a narrow plank which spanned a brooklet. Happening to glance downward, the dog was surprised to see his bone reflected in the clear water.

"Well, well," he thought to himself, "this is certainly food for reflection!" Saying which, he proceeded to turn his friends for the next three weeks with his brilliant talk.

REVENGE.
Doctor—I know you'll be satisfied with me at first but you will get used to it in time and you'll like it.
Patient—Get to like it? Well, if I ever do I'll punish a lot of it just to get even.

REINFORCEMENTS EXPECTED.
"Hurry! A mob! A mob!"
he yelled more and more in a wild note. I never saw this man so much at a loss.

NOT ADMITTED.
"I suppose a dog can't have sense without a lot of money, can't it?"
"Certainly not," I replied. "I don't know how to get a dog to understand a thing."

When baby suffers with croup, apply and give Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil

REVIVAL OF FAMILY OF GENERAL NOGI STARTS FURORE IN JAPAN

Hero of Port Arthur Left Will Requesting That His Family Be Permitted to Become Extinct.

IMPERIAL DECREE NOW RESUSCITATES TREE

Great Public Clamor Follows Order Which Violates Last Wish of Soldier Who Committed Hari-kari.

[Associated Press Correspondence] Tokio, Oct. 6.—No subject has caused more of a clamor of public discussion in Japan in recent years than an imperial decree legally resuscitating the family of the late General Nogi, the hero of Port Arthur and the idol of the Japanese nation. A storm of protest has risen from all parts of the empire because of the fact that General Nogi, who committed harakari with his wife on the night of the funeral of Emperor Mutsuhito, left a will expressing his disapproval of the custom of adopting heirs in Japan and requesting that his family become extinct.

General Nogi's later life was saddened by the loss of his two sons in the war with Russia. He was constantly requested by relatives and friends to adopt an heir in fulfillment of Japanese custom and thus to continue the succession of his house.
Nogi, however, refused, declaring that to his mind the practice of adoption had worked very badly and often had resulted in bringing discredit to the family. He preferred that his own house, which had been given the rank of nobility by the emperor, should become extinct after his death.

This desire was contained very explicitly in his last testament in which he declared "the tomb of the family ancestors should be cared for by blood relations so long as any of them survive, and not by others." He gave directions that his body should be contributed to a medical school for dissection, under the belief that his wife would survive him.

Count Nogi concluded his will with the words: "The name of the house of Nogi will be retained during my wife's lifetime and after that it is my earnest hope that my family will be extinguished."

The successor to Count Nogi is not a blood relation. He is Motoyoshi Mori, younger brother of Viscount Motoo Mori. An imperial decree ordering Mr. Mori to take over the house of the late Count Nogi as well as the title of Count was issued on the third anniversary of the suc-cumbence of the hero of Port Arthur.
The fact that the new head of the house has already made application for the

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism untrained for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to fidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a

OCCUPATION FOR THE
LONDON SMALL BOY

[Associated Press Correspondence] London, Oct. 25.—The darkening of the London streets has provided a new occupation for the small boy.
Armed with a small electric flash-lamp, he takes his position soon after nightfall at the suburban subway station and carefully scans the faces of arriving passengers. Espying a stranger, he advances, and, flashing his little lamp, offers to conduct the stranger to his destination. The price of the service, which is generally eagerly taken advantage of, is ten or fifteen cents, according to the distance.

Final Pay-day for Season In Sells-Floto Circus Turns Loose $12,000 in Albuquerque

Big Tented Amusement Enterprise Closes Successful Summer and Fall and Is Busy Buying Supplies to Last the Animals Until Caravan Reaches Winter Quarters at Denver; Will Open Next Spring in This City; Patronage This Afternoon Proves Popularity of This Particular Circus.

"Bigger and better than ever" really fits the Sells-Floto circus this year.
It is bigger and better, and all the other things its corps of highly efficient press agents say about it; but we can afford to take all that for granted as we go to the circus this afternoon and tonight and give our full attention right now to the big feature of the news in connection with this particular circus on this particular day in Albuquerque.

The main feature of the circus news today is pay day and the most important man in the show is the cashier. For the performance in the big tents at Hopewell field this afternoon is the last for the present season. At its conclusion the great amusement enterprise will be packed on its railway caravan and will move for Denver, there to remain in winter quarters until next April when it will make the trip back from Denver to Albuquerque to open here.

Incidentally—and it is a mighty important incident—the paymaster of the Sells-Floto circus will pay out a round $12,000 to employees in salaries during the course of this afternoon.
This is about two weeks' payroll for the Sells-Floto. As is customary with all circus management a week's pay is held in reserve for each employee all during the season. This is for the obvious purpose of protecting the management. It actually protects first piece of equipment that is unloaded when the circus arrives and the lights in his private car are the last to go out when the day's work is over; for Hutchinson supplies the brains which make the whole big entertainment enterprise move with a smoothness and efficiency which is setting a new standard in circus management. He says little, but everybody and he says counts and through the whole organization there is evident a strong feeling of respect and regard for the manager that probably is the best testimonial to his ability as a circus man. Always busy, today was one of the busiest of the season for Hutchinson, for the closing means a thousand details of necessary business that must be attended to today and that do not come in the day's routine.

"It has been a very excellent season for our show," said Mr. Hutchinson this morning. "Although we did get a bad start. The foot and mouth quarantine was in effect in New Mexico, Arizona and Texas when we started and as you'll recall, we had to pass up our usual opening in Albuquerque and bent it through your town like a bunch of runaway stock rusters. They wouldn't even let us stop and water our stock. We had to get to the Arizona border first. However, you run up against all sorts of things in the circus game; and after we got well started we encountered our usual business and a little better, probably than ever before. We will come here to open next spring, according to our present plans."

The big parade this morning was witnessed by thousands, and the crowds pouring into the main entrance at Hopewell park this afternoon testify to the local popularity of the Sells-Floto circus. It is a modern, up-to-the-minute, clean cut, circus organization and well worth the liberal patronage it enjoys. Albuquerque is always glad to see it come and sorry to see it go.

'CASCARETS' BEST IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS,
SICK, CONSTIPATED

Best for liver and bowels, bad breath, bad colds, sour

Get a 10-cent box Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.
Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is re-absorbed into the blood. When the poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes exhaustion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanses the stomach, removes the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.
A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet, breath right, complexion rosy and your liver and bowels regular for months.
